LOCAL NEWS

—Rev. Dr. George E. Guild of the Providence church read his resignation as pastor on Sunday last. He has been pastor since 1879.

—Saturday was St. Swithin's Day. It rained on that day and if the old legend holds true we may expect rain every day for forty days.

—It is estimated that 100,000 quarts of huckleberries were destroyed by the hail and rain storms in Monroe county last week. The corn crop is also said to have been practically ruined.

—Hon. C. A. McCarty left Tuesday for Harrisburg, where he will attend a meeting of the new organization of the Democratic party. The old leaders refused to go out and consequently two calls have been issued. Rather a gloomy outlook for the Democratic party.

—"Free Silver" Sam, the funniest political story you ever read.—Tribune-Republican.

—The game between Taylor and Honesdale on Saturday, July 22, will be called at 2:30 p. m.

—The Building and Financial committees will meet at the Indian Orchard school house Thursday at 8 p. m.

—The Tyler Hill ladies will have a fair on the lawn of Ernest Oliver Wednesday afternoon and evening, July 26. Everyone invited.

—After operating on short hours the past few months, the Florence silk mill at this place, commenced working on full time on Saturday.

—There will be special meetings of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and the Knights of St. Paul at Grace church Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

—The employees of the Katz Underwear factory at this place are enjoying a ten days' vacation while an inventory is being taken of the stock.

—All members of Osek Tribe No. 318 Improved Order of Red Men, are requested to meet at the wigwam Tuesday evening, July 18, at 7:30 p. m.

—Six Honesdale Elks, representing Scranton Lodge No. 123, last Friday, attended the funeral of Mrs. August Frank at Hawley. They were Messrs. Fred Saunders, Fred Rickert, Herman Meyers, Fletcher Bunnell, Harry Freeman, W. B. Roadnight.

—Lloyd Schuller, Earl Ham, Chester Gerry, Louis Korb and Fred Christ walked from Honesdale to Beachlake and return on Sunday. The ground was rapidly covered east-bound but homeward bound their legs became weary and it seemed twice the distance. They brought several lilies home and enjoyed the day.

—The refreshing rain the first of the week saved the crops. The potato vines were beginning to be affected with a blight and corn was drying up. Potatoes that in former years were dug by the 4th of July will not mature this year until about the first of August. In some places the tops of the plants are dry and the potatoes are small.

—A camping party composed of Mrs. W. G. Murphy, Mrs. R. J. Knox, chaperones, Misses Edith and Ruth Thompson, H. Estelle Knox, Mildred Reed, Frank Fadell, George Tamlyn, Herbert S. Murphy, all of Brooklyn, N. Y., arrived on the Erie train Monday afternoon for two weeks' outing at Elk Lake. They will occupy the J. A. Brown cottage.

—The local finance committee in charge of the preliminary fund to boom the Stourbridge Lion monument is meeting with success in soliciting from the public. Your money cannot go to a more worthy or public-spirited object and you will never regret contributing to this project. The committee is composed of F. W. Kreitner, W. T. Heft, S. T. Ham and L. Blumenthal.

—The Wayne County Medical society will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Baker, Waymart. The speaker will be William Rowland Davies, M. D., of Scranton. His subject will be "Infection, Immunity, and Serum Therapy." After meeting, through the courtesy of Dr. Fitzsimmons, Superintendent of the State Hospital at Fairview, the society will be given an opportunity to inspect the newly erected hospital buildings.

—Asa Kimble, Dyberry, scooped up two handfuls of hailstones at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, which was several hours after Saturday afternoon's heavy thunderstorm. At Atco Martin Liholt shoveled up a bushel of frozen rain in one place upon his farm. His fine field of corn, as well as others in that section of the county, was completely ruined. Some of the oldest inhabitants claim they never saw so much hail accompany a thunder storm.

—The members of the order of Knights of St. George of this place were royally entertained in their rooms in O'Connell hall Saturday evening. A large number were present to listen to Herman L. Hegner, Pittsburg, first vice-president of the German Catholic Knights of St. George, and District Organizer Jos. Albrecht, Scranton. Both gentlemen made excellent addresses. Sommer's orchestra furnished music during the evening and light refreshments were served.

—Some idea of what a small factory will do for a town may be gleaned from the statement of a Deposit, N. Y., real estate man, who says that February 1 this year he had a list of thirty-three houses for rent. Now he has only four left, and he ascribes his success in securing desirable tenants in so short a time to the location there of the Kelly & Steinmann Glass Cutting shop, a former Honesdale industry alleged to have been driven out of the Maple City by the labor troubles incited by western agitators, last summer.

—An Ithaca dispatch says: Chas. Seabring, who mysteriously disappeared from home a week ago, has been located at Kiowa, Kan. He went away from home during the hot spell and he wired home that his mind had been a blank since he left. His wife and aunt left Ithaca Saturday to bring him back. Perhaps we shall hear from Rev. Watson B. Signor, Orson, the missing Methodist clergyman, who so mysteriously disappeared in Scranton nearly a week ago, in the same manner as from the Ithaca wanderer.

—That bunch of ball tossers from Hawley are becoming some pumpkins. One week ago Saturday with McCloskey, former Tri-Stater, in the box, they defeated the strong Choctaws of the Lackawanna County League. The Choctaws are now in third place in the league. They were in the lead all the spring until just lately. Hawley now thinks they are ready to beat Honesdale and have notified us to that effect. The local management has booked them here for Saturday, July 29, and as they are now confident of winning the championship of Wayne county, a hot time can be expected. Hawley has lost one and won five games this season.

—Born to Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Paatz, Bethany, last Saturday, a son.

—The Merry Heart club returned Saturday from a 10 days' outing at Elk Lake.

—Cashier C. A. Emery has purchased a new Stanley steamer Torpedo runabout 1912 model, which is a beauty.

—J. M. Branning and Mattie A. Knapp, both of Lookout, were married last Friday by Justice of the Peace W. H. Ham.

—A marriage license was issued Tuesday, July 18, to William M. Harris, Ithaca, N. Y., and Alpha G. Rockwell, Honesdale.

—The Herbeck-Demer company of Hallstead, has taken out dissolution papers and the Demers have made arrangements to occupy another factory at Great Bend.

—Miss Emma Seaman, of this place, purchased the Charles Rehm farm in Berlin township, at Sheriff's sale, Friday afternoon, for $100. The farm consists of 51 acres.

—The Demer brothers have purchased the equipment of the cut glass shop formerly operated at Clark's Summit by William Kohlus, and removed same to Great Bend, where it is expected they will be in operation within ten days.

—S. T. Ham, John Erk, C. E. Bates and John Rickert represented the Honesdale Business Men's association in Carbondale on Monday evening, making final arrangements for the Merchants' Day picnic at Lake Lodore on August 2.

—The Business Men's association are more than gratified with the support they have and are receiving in regards to their picnic which will be held at Lake Lodore August 2. The stores will be universally closed. There are about a half dozen business houses who have not as yet complied with the request.

—C. E. Van Horne received a telegram Tuesday morning that his home in Susquehanna that was recently removed was badly damaged by fire Monday night. The home of George Sando, located next to Mr. Van Horne's tenement house, was destroyed and although firemen worked hard to save the Van Horn dwelling it was somewhat damaged.

—The remains of Miss Libbie Holbert arrived on Sunday evening's Erie train from Los Angeles, Cal. The funeral was held Tuesday morning in the Presbyterian chapel, Rev. W. H. Swift officiating. Interment was made at Indian Orchard. Miss Holbert was well known in Honesdale, where she lived many years. She was a sister of Decatur Holbert of this place.

—Three automobile parties registered at the Allen House on Sunday, all of whom were from Carbondale. One party consisted of A. Hiller, Mrs. J. Hower, Mrs. W. H. Hiller and Paul W. Hiller; another, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Benton, Carbondale, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Tylor, Forest City; Superintendent and Mrs. C. E. Burr, Mrs. C. E. Ferris, Burr Portee, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Patten.

—Another redeeming feature of oiled streets is the dry sidewalks immediately following rain. By removing a light collection of the dust the main street walks, as dry as people are pleased over the success of the experiment on the two blocks recently and many have expressed a desire to see the remainder of Main street oiled.

—Pitcher Schneider, Honesdale, who hurled for Syracuse last year under the name of Dank, has quit baseball for the present at least, and is now an electrical engineer for the Westinghouse company, of Allentown. Manager Deal made an effort last week to get him to return to the Salt City and help out the team, but he would not do this and notified Deal to that effect on Tuesday. He went to Wilkes-Barre and Reading from Lafayette College.—Scranton Times.

—Carl Prosch, the ingenious decorator and superintendent of the Honesdale Decorating company's plant at this place, recently secured a patent for a design on a glass vessel. The Scientific American of July 15 contained the following relative to the design: "The design in this case is representative of a wine glass or goblet, along very graceful and simple lines, the ornamentation comprising a band encircling the article near the rim, the band being decorated with a flower repeated and separated by intertwining lines."

—The full crew law, a new state measure, went into effect in Pennsylvania Sunday at 12 o'clock midnight. The law calls for an extra man on every car on a train of from three to five cars or over. The law has not as yet been signed by Gov. Dix, but all trains operated by the Erie railroad in the state of Pennsylvania took on an extra man on trains of three to five cars, Monday. Tuesday morning's Honesdale Erie train had its first "full" crew under the new law. James Curran, of this place, who has recently been employed on passenger and freight trains on the main line of the Erie, donned the blue suit as the extra man on the Honesdale train. He is second brakeman, Philip Dean being first brakeman.
